Seasonal flu shots are now available at the Student Health Center. Getting a seasonal flu shot is the best way to prevent infection from the seasonal flu virus. Getting the seasonal flu shot DOES NOT protect you from the H1N1 virus; therefore, it is important that you also receive the H1N1 vaccine when it is available to you. Updates regarding the availability of H1N1 vaccine on campus will be provided on the health center and the University H1N1 websites as information becomes available.
